September 2009

Dear Educator,

We are pleased to announce the 9th Annual Bookmark Competition sponsored by the Mizel Museum.

A contest form with guidelines for student participation in grades K-2 and 3-5 is enclosed. Please encourage every student to participate—each entry is appreciated.

This art competition asks children to think about and talk about “My Family.” We are hoping the competition stimulates lots of opportunities for sharing through classroom and home discussions about relationships and cultural experiences.

Please ask students to design a bookmark using materials such as inks, crayons and markers. Students may complete the bookmarks at home or teachers may have students work on the bookmarks in class. Completed entries should be mailed or delivered to the museum at the address below. Contact information for each child must be complete for the entry to be eligible. Entries will be accepted through November 1, 2009.

The bookmark contest is an offshoot of the Mizel Museum’s Bridges of Understanding programming which is available for presentation at your school. The museum’s educational goal is to teach children about all people in our world. Call our new Director of Interpretation and Education, Jan Cooper Nadav, at 303-394-9993 Ext. 103 for more information.

We hope the competition brings about rich experiences for everyone. Should there be any questions please contact me at the Mizel Museum. Thank you for your participation. Enjoy!
